Melanoma classification

The goal of the project is to inaugurate and build on techniques to assist health-care providers in diagnosing skin cancer at its preliminary stages.

Classification will be the best model chosen for the project. I have done the preprocessing and currently working on the model.